

EDITORIAL POLICY

1. Exclusive Submission Policy

A submission sent in for our review must not be submitted elsewhere. Once published or accepted for publication in our review, a submission becomes the copyright of the RGNUL Student Law Review and it must not be dealt with by the author in a manner which is prejudicial to our copyright. All authors must conform to the exclusive submission policy and all submissions made to the review must be on the understanding that the authors have agreed to the aforesaid stipulation.

2. Indemnity for Liability

The author also undertakes to indemnify the Review from any action or suit arising out of the publication of a submission proffered by the author in favour of the review. While the Review does a comprehensive study of all submissions placed before it and published by it, the final liability shall always rest with the author.

3. Copyright Policy

All submissions submitted to the review are our exclusive copyright. However, the submissions may be freely reproduced either partially or in their entirety after obtaining due consent. All permissible usages under the doctrine of fair use may be freely undertaken, without obtaining such consent. However, in either of the cases the requisite attribution must be done. Moreover, the reproduction must be for non-commercial purposes, however, this may be waived by us, if we deem it to be befitting. Also, the submission may not be altered, distorted, built upon or transformed in any manner whatsoever, without our express consent. The consent may be obtained by sending in a mail addressed to the editorial board at rslr@rgnul.ac.in. The work licensed to you may not be further licensed to a third party, without obtaining our consent. In case of a breach of these conditions, the license to reproduce the submissions will be terminated by us, and any subsequent usage of the said material will not be permissible.
