

CALL FOR PAPERS

ABOUT THE LAW REVIEW

The RGNUL Student Law Review (hereinafter “Law Review”) is a bi-annual, student run, peer reviewed journal based at Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Punjab. It is the flagship journal managed by the students of the University. It has been founded with the objective of facilitating arguments in black and white. Legal Research skills form the core of the learning process in any dimension of law. The primary function of the Law Review is to promote student research, deliberation and writing in the field of law.

The Law Review aims to publish comprehensive treatments of subjects (“articles”), preferably written by law students as well as shorter pieces, commonly called “notes” and “comments”.

Normative law articles form a major component of the Law Review. Legislative Bill Drafting is one of the novel and the primary areas which it aims to cover. Ambiguous provisions in the law are a cause of concern amongst the legal community. We encourage articles from the students regarding the codification of public international law into their own domestic legislations and how this can be carried out. The Law Review aims to seek the opinion of student researchers and provides the option to DRAFT and/or AMEND the existing law.

THEME FOR VOLUME 2 ISSUE 1

The theme for Volume 2 Issue 1 will focus on the theme: “Public International Law”. This is not limited to issues or themes pertinent to any particular country

CATEGORIES

The RGNUL Student Law Review will be peer-reviewed. The articles would undergo initial editorial screening followed by blind peer review. Articles are invited under the following categories:

- ❖ Articles (5,000 to 8,000 words)
- ❖ Short Notes (3,000-5,000 words)
- ❖ Case Comments (3,000 to 4,000 words)

- ❖ Normative Law Articles (3,000 to 5,000 words)

SUBMISSION CATEGORIES

- ❖ Articles: A comprehensive and thorough analysis of issues related to the theme of the Journal. The word limit for articles is between 5,000 to 8,000 words.
- ❖ Short Notes: These should contain brief, case and point arguments revolving around a specific, current issue or an issue of importance which may have not received due research
- ❖ Case Comments: An academic writing that analyses or is a critique of a recent case. The word limit for commentaries is between 3,000 to 4,000 words.
- ❖ Normative Law Articles: The Law Review will explore the opinion of students relating to the specific Legislations involved in the theme of the Journal. It seeks to bring out a student's view on how a particular Legislation or Legislative Provision should have been drafted to bring out clarity into the law. The article must first state briefly about the Legislation/Legislative provision and then suggest what changes can be adopted in it. Should you have reason to believe that the particular legislation requires some amendments, you are welcome to DRAFT and/or AMEND the provisions or you can re-draft the entire law if so be the requirement. Arguments must be logical and can take into account aspects such as Sociological, Political, and Economic implications of the law. Word Limit shall not exceed 5,000 words.
